

We are happy to add the expertise of the following advisors to the expanded BECCA Advisory Committee effective January 2009:

Stacey Banks. As the Founder of Oxford Federal, LLC, Stacey Banks provides support to clients in meeting security and government regulatory compliance issues. An Information security professional with 10 years in industry that includes 6 years in direct support of Federal clients. Ms. Banks specializes in Information Security and FISMA supporting DIACAP, DITSCAP, and NIST initiatives.

Ms. Banks is a Certified Confidentiality Officer, CISSP, and holds an MS in Network Security and a BS in Computer Science. She holds memberships in the Business Espionage Controls & Countermeasures Association (BECCA), the High Technology Crime Investigation Association (HTCIA), and the Federal Information Systems Security Educators' Association (FISSEA)

Daniel J. Benny, M.A., CPP, PCI, CFE, CCO is a professionally licensed, bonded and insured Private Investigator and Security Consultant and court-qualified expert witness in security matters. Since 1981 he has offered criminal, legal, corporate, private and pre-employment investigations. He provides security consulting and training covering security management, aviation security, homeland security, counterintelligence, counterterrorism and protective service.

He is completing a Doctor of Philosophy in Criminal Justice from Capella University, and holds a Master of Arts in Security Administration from Vermont College of Norwich University, Bachelor of Arts in Security Administration from Alvernia College, Associate of Arts in both Commercial Security and Police Administration from Harrisburg Area Community College, Diploma in Naval Command and Staff from the United States Naval War College and Diploma from the Navy - Marine Corps Intelligence Training Center. He is Board Certified in Security Management with the designation of Certified Protection Professional (CPP), Board Certified as a Professional Certified Investigator (PCI) both by ASIS International, Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE) by the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners and Certified Confidentiality Officer (CCO), and BECCA Counterintelligence Instructor by Business Espionage Controls and Countermeasures Association.

Benny has authored over 300 articles, The Private Investigators Professional Desk Reference, contributing author to the ASIS International Guidelines and ASIS Protection of Assets Manual. He served as a United States Naval Intelligence Officer with duty at Office of Naval Intelligence, Naval Criminal Investigative Service, Fleet Rapid Support Team and Central Intelligence Agency. He is certified by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a Lethal Weapons Instructor/Agent and Terrorism Awareness Instructor. He holds a Black Sash in Jeet Kune Do and is a National Rifle Association of America Personal Protection, Firearms and Range Safety Instructor. He is a Federal Aviation Administration Certified Private Pilot, Federal Aviation Administration Safety Representative and Cessna C-150 aircraft owner.

Member: ASIS International, International Security Management Association, Association of Certified Fraud Examiners, Business Espionage Controls & Countermeasures Association, International Association for Counterterrorism & Security Professionals, FBI-InfraGard, Pennsylvania Association of Private Investigators, Pennsylvania Association of Licensed Investigators, Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association, Alpha Phi Sigma National Criminal Justice Honor Society, Association For Intelligence Officers, International Spy Museum, Naval Intelligence Professionals, United States Navy Memorial Foundation, Navy League of the United States, United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, Military Order of the World Wars, American Legion, MG Car Club, Central Pennsylvania Automobile Club, National Rifle Association of America, Sherlock Holmes Society of London, Aircraft Owners & Pilots Association, Aviation Council of Pennsylvania.,
DrBenny@bennypi.com

Daryl Haegley, CCO, OCP, serves as Senior Vice President, Military and Government Sales for Medis Technologies, Operations Security (OPSEC) Program Manager for Naval Sea Systems Command, Vice President, National Board of Directors, OPSEC Professionals Society (OPS) and Security consultant for several companies. He is a former career naval officer with a diverse background in Surface Warfare and Information Operations. As NETWARCOM OPSEC Program Manager and Navy OPSEC Support Team Officer in Charge, he conducted numerous Navy and Joint OPSEC and Web risk assessments in North America, South America, Europe and Central Asia. Daryl earned a Masters of Science in Space Operations from the Naval Postgraduate School, a Masters of Art in Military Science at the Air Command and Staff College while simultaneously obtaining a Masters in Business Administration (MBA) from Troy State University, and lastly graduated from the Joint Forces Staff College.

He is the recipient of the National OPSEC Individual Achievement Award (2005), DoD Chief Information Officer Award (2005), National OPSEC Multimedia Award (2007), and is a patented inventor.
Dhaegley@gmail.com.

Lee Kirby, President, Lee Technologies International Services and Division Chief of Staff in US Army Reserve. Extensive international experience as a business leader. Demonstrated record of establishing very successful operations in various countries and threat levels. Unique financial success and technical acumen provide extraordinary ability to assume any role regardless of scope. Demonstrated success building global businesses ($200M+) and executing multiple start-ups, transformations and turnarounds resulting in significant return on investment for shareholders/owners. Thirty plus years military experience with over a decade in the SOF community, including tours as Special Forces Officer and Civil Affairs Officer in Europe, Asia and Caribbean. Successfully planned and executed a variety of missions including drug interdiction, intelligence gathering, counter-insurgency and psychological operations. MBA from the University of Washington. Participates in various associations to include but not limited to Hire America's Heroes, ESGR, Northwest Harvest, and Wounded Warrior Program.
Lee.kirby@comcast.net

Jeremy Martin, Information Warfare Specialist. Jeremy is a Senior Security Researcher that has focused his profession around Red Team penetration testing, Computer Forensics, Open source Intelligence, and Cyber Warfare. Starting his career in 1995 Mr. Martin has worked with fortune 200 companies and Federal Government agencies, receiving a number of awards for service. Outside consulting, he is an instructor, security researcher, published author, and speaks at security conferences around the world. Mr. Martin's current research projects include vulnerability analysis, threat profiling, exploitation automation, anti-forensics, open source intelligence gathering, and reverse engineering malware.

As an active member of the global Information Security/Assurance communities, Jeremy volunteers for the local ISSA and ACFEI chapters. He also holds several positions for internationally recognized organizations. In 2006, he became the President for the Open Information Systems Security Group (OISSG), while sitting on the Board of Directors for Denver's InfraGard chapter. Since 2005, he has held a state coordinator position for the ACHEI Certified in Homeland Security division.

Mr. Martin currently holds over 20 professional certifications including: CISSP-ISSAP/ISSMP, CISM, NSA-IAM/IEM, CEI-CHFI/CEH/CNDA/ECSA/LPT, IPTQ/IPTE, CEPT/CDRP/CASS, CHS-III, ACSA, Network+/A+
Jeremy@infosecprofessionals.com

William (Bill) A. Pitard, PSP, BSCP, CCO. Bill's military service spanned 24 years in the Navy Security Forces stationed at domestic and international locations worldwide. He is currently a Security Specialist for the global architect engineering firm Parsons Brinckerhoff, Inc. in their Transit & Rail Systems Safety and Security Group, Norfolk, VA office. In this role, Bill performs a variety of security tasks in the rail & transit, marine & ports, bridges, & highway, building, and intellectual property industries. His background includes formal training and demonstrated experience with risk-based assessments, security management and planning, security force operations, and physical security.

Bill holds an A.S. in General Studies (City University, Bellevue, WA) and has completed formal training in numerous related security disciplines. In addition to his Certified Confidentiality Officer (CCO) designation, Bill is industry certified as a Physical Security Professional (PSP) and Building Security Certified Professional (BSCP), as well as a Project Manager with his firm. He is co-author of the Transit Cooperative Research Program (TCRP) guide Security Measures for Ferry Systems (Report 86, Public Transportation Security Vol 11, 2006) and prepares physical security infrastructure Recommended Practice topics for the American Public Transportation Association (APTA).

William.pitard@gmail.com

Eric E. Sifford, CCO, CFCE, U.S. Army Human Intelligence Collection Technician. Eric Sifford is a U.S. Army Warrant Officer serving as a Human Intelligence (HUMINT) Collection Technician. Prior to becoming certified as a HUMINT Collection Technician, he spent nine years serving in the U.S. Army as a Signals Intelligence (SIGINT) Collector. Prior to joining the U.S. Army, Eric spent three years in the U.S. Army Reserves as an Infantry Drill Sergeant and five years in the U.S. Marine Corps as an Avionics Technician. His education includes an AAS Degree in Law Enforcement Technology, an AA Degree in Foreign Language (Arabic), and an AAS Degree in Intelligence Operations. He has been trained in the Reid Technique of Interviewing and Interrogation, and he has been trained by the U.S. Army as an Anti-Terrorism Officer. Eric achieved certification as a CCO in June 2007, and he became a Certified Forensic Computer Examiner (CFCE) in July 2008. He is a DoD-certified Arabic Linguist and a DoD-certified Interrogator.

Eric has completed two tours in Iraq as a SIGINT Collector, one tour in the Egyptian Sinai with the Multinational Force and Observers (MFO) as a translator, and one tour in Operation Desert Shield/Storm as an Avionics Technician. In his current assignment, he is responsible for all HUMINT Collection Activities within his Brigade Combat Team. Specifically, Eric is responsible for the proper conduct and oversight of all interrogations, source operations, document and digital media exploitation, friendly force debriefing, liaison with local officials, threat vulnerability assessments, local employed persons screening, and deconfliction of HUMINT collection with other agencies. Eric also coordinates Military Intelligence training for his Brigade with governmental, Department of Defense, and private agencies.

Eric.sifford@us.army.mil

Arnold H. Webster, B.S., M.S. PhD (Can.), is an instructor with the Homeland Security University. He has a B.S (Computer Systems with an emphasis in Networking and Telecommunications) an M.S. (Network Security with an emphasis in Security Management) and a PhD candidate (Business Administration with an emphasis in Engineering and Technology Management).

For the past 20 years, he has been employed with the Department of Defense in such areas as Instructor/Technical Writer, where he taught new equipment training on air defense equipment, Command, Control, Communications, and Intelligence Systems (C3I); electronics systems maintenance supervisor, where he managed the repair of telecommunications systems, cryptographic equipment, tactical satellite and troposcatter ground-based systems, automation and data processing (computer) systems, avionics and RADAR systems; He developed, trained, and managed several electronics maintenance facilities consisting of well over 1500 personnel. He worked in the areas of Information Assurance and Quality control where he developed and implemented programs to ensure user systems were not compromised through electronic or physical means.

His community involvement includes developing Training With Industry (TWI) programs between the military and local civilian agencies and developing chapters of the Electronics Technician Association-International for the military to become certified electronics technicians.

Mr. Webster holds the Certified Electronics Technician (Journeyman), Certified Customer Support, and the Certified Communications Technician through the Electronics Technicians Association-International; The Certified Confidentiality Officer credential through the Business Espionage Controls and Counter-measures Association; Certified Technician (Class 3) through the National Association of Radio and Telecommunications Engineers Association, The FCC license with Ship RADAR endorsement through the Federal Communications Commission, The Certified Information Security Manager through the Information Systems Audit and Control Association; The Certified Emergency Program Manager through the Federal Emergency Management Agency; the Certificate, Electrical Repairer Apprenticeship Program through the U.S. Department of Labor.

Arnold_webster@hotmail.com